A Field House For Salem?

Desire for a large gymnasium or field house, frequently expressed during the last couple of years and seriously considered a year ago, has developed into sort of hysteria in Salem this winter largely because everyone who wants to see a fast-stepping high school basketball team in action hasn't been able to crowd into the school gymnasium. This sudden demand for action is accompanied by confusion, illogical ideas and little or no conception of how to proceed or what is involved. The desire is so keen that, to many, the whole project seems quite simple, so—why can't we have a field house?

We can have a field house, if we're sure that is what we want, but before our enthusiasm runs away with us let's exercise a little restraint and ponder a few facts. The present burst of enthusiasm is, to a certain extent, an outgrowth of a plan, first proposed some two or three years ago by Joe Kelley, for an addition to the Memorial building to provide adequate facilities for his constantly expanding recreation program in that building. The need is more apparent today than ever, as some of his activities have had to be transferred to the High school gym. But the current insistence for action seems to have by-passed this particular phase of the city's recreational needs to one designed primarily to take care of spectators, with provision for public entertainment, public gatherings, etc. If that is what is wanted, it should be called by a more appropriate name—a public auditorium.

But there are some who still think in terms of a field house. For this, three avenues of approach are open: A municipal bond issue, a school bond issue, or a public fund raised by subscriptions. Only the latter applies to the Memorial building, as there is no way to present a public bond issue to the voters covering an addition to that building without at the same time turning over its control to the city or the board of education. Trustees of the building are not likely to do that.

Even if city council were inclined to sponsor a bond issue for this purpose, many voters who favor a field house would hesitate to approve political control of such a venture. And council may be expected to consider first some of the city's unfinished obligations, such as a big sewer project, improvements to its street lighting system which cannot long be delayed, and other projects which will require no small amount of money. Whether a fund ranging from 100 to 300 thousand dollars could be raised by popular subscriptions is a question for someone else to answer. We'll venture a guess that enthusiasm alone wouldn't produce many large contributions, and it would be a discouraging effort without them.

That leaves another possibility—a bond issue sponsored by the board of education. In dealing with this possibility, it is well to recall that the board included a field house in its original long-range program for school building expansion, a large part of which was approved by the voters last November. That complete project provided for a new high school building with a field house. It has not been abandoned, merely deferred because, since the board felt it could not present its entire program to the voters at one time, it chose to meet most pressing needs first by constructing elementary school additions. Within the next few years that high school-field house program will be submitted to the voters. That seems to be the most logical solution to the field house question because, first of all, it would meet modern demands for expansion of scholastic athletic programs. It doesn't answer immediate demands of sports-loving fans of Salem. And they are showing little inclination to be patient.

If these fans insist upon being impatient, however, they should give serious thought to another important phase of a field house. Loose-thinking is giving expression almost daily to the belief that a field house would pay for itself in a few years. Experience in other cities, large and small, proves that it not only will not pay for itself in a short time, but that its operation becomes an annual burden. If the city should build the structure by issuing bonds, a tax levy would be necessary for operating expenses. How such an operating fund could be produced if public contributions financed the construction is not easy to answer.

Salem could use a field house to advantage many times during the year, but not always profitably and certainly not consistently week after week every week in the year. It would be a fine asset for Salem, but everyone favoring it should view its possibilities through practical eyes. It's the only way to approach a project of such magnitude.

Badly Out of Practice

Sometime soon the question of statehood for Hawaii and Alaska will grow pressing, and when it does the American public will be out of practice. It has been 35 years since a state was admitted—Arizona, this coming Feb. 14. Only three members of Congress go back that far in their hold on the people—Senator McKellar of Tennessee and Representatives Sabath and Dougherty.

Due to the popular practice of ignoring the platforms of political parties, it is not even remembered—or never was known—that both parties came out flat-footed for statehood for Hawaii and Alaska in 1944, and the Republicans threw in Puerto Rico for good measure. The weasel-word, "ultimate," was slipped in to the text, but Hawaiians particularly are trying to forget it. To them, ultimately means now.

Their case, in fact, has begun to look so good that no one can find anything wrong with it any more. There are enough residents of the islands to make a showing, more than half a million. Alaska, unfortunately, is a little too sparsely-settled to look good at this time. Hawaiians are reasonably prosperous and have shown a certain amount of aptitude. There are almost two million Puerto Ricans, but they are neither prosperous nor endowed with any conspicuous aptitude for government.

There are no logical requirements for statehood, but the Constitution requires that the federal government guarantee each state a republican form of government. Aside from this, the decision is up to Congress, which usually has acted favorably if the inhabitants wanted statehood and seemed capable of supporting it. Thus satisfied, Congress authorizes a convention to draft a constitution, which then must be approved by popular referendum.

It is beginning to look as if every flag in the United States might soon be made obsolete by addition of a 49th star, perhaps a 50th. The country's out of practice, but it hasn't quit adding states yet.

The Stars Say

For Friday, January 24

THE development of a set of circumstances which may impede the smooth running of elaborate plans and programs of far-reaching importance already on fair way of accomplishment, is read from this day's astral configurations. This menace is from a prodigal, extravagant and over-exuberant tendency to plunge, gamble, or to waste the energies, substance and assets in a wild and spectacular explosion, in which there are scant dividends or security. Shrewd and quiet acumen may get results.

Birthday Forecast

Those whose birthday it is may find their own well-organized and studied plans and tactics, applied to a state of current events having promise of long-term and lasting security, may be put in jeopardy by a rash, intemperate, over-optimistic and extravagant urge, in which the spirit of gambling, plunging and prodigality may set off a course of loss of resources, funds, position, prestige and peace of mind, affecting the personal as well as business life. Logic, restraint and acumen gain lasting returns.

A child born on this day has good prospects of a happy, fruitful and happy career, if it be trained to control an inclination to prodigality, extravagance and over-indulgence, in funds, energies and behavior.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Ways of Treating Gallbladder Infection

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

WHEN it comes to treating acute gallbladder infection, there are two courses open to the physician. He may either order immediate operation or, if the condition of the patient permits, advise a period of "watchful waiting" to allow the inflammation to subside a little before operation is undertaken.

According to Dr. Frederick W. M. Pratt of London, during the period of waiting the patient should be given little food by mouth. However, a mixture of sugar solution and vitamins may be given by injection into a vein and the patient should also receive plenty of fluid in this same way.

Hot compresses may be applied to the right upper part of the abdomen to relieve pain. Sulfonamide drugs may also be given in an effort to overcome the infection.

The Pulse Rate

If the patient's pulse rate begins to rise, and there are marked fever and chills, the pain becoming more severe and the patient's general condition worse, immediate operation is required.

Even here, however, statistics seem to indicate that the patient will be better off for a delay of several hours, during which time such preoperative treatment as is required can be given.

In chronic inflammation of the gallbladder, treatment is not so easily decided upon. Many patients do well without operation. According to Dr. Pratt, the treatment should consist of giving a weak solution of hydrochloric acid by mouth, a diet relatively rich in fats and olive oil given by mouth before meals and at bedtime.

Some physicians give a saline laxative, such as magnesium or sodium sulfate, before breakfast. It is also possible to pass a tube through the patient's mouth into the first part of the intestine and administer the magnesium sulfate through it, which aids in the drainage of the gallbladder.

When chronic gallbladder infection is responsible for continued ill health and is associated with persistent pain and fever, removal of the gallbladder is necessary.

West Virginians Irked, By Gum!

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 23—There's a popular feeling among West (by gum) Virginians that when a native travels to distant places strangers either take him for a Virginian or expect to find him barefoot in a coonskin cap.

So the legislature will be asked to change the state's name. Either that, said the sponsor of a proposed resolution, or ask its sister state to rename itself "East Virginia."

"Offhand," said Delegate Frank A. Knight, Charleston Democrat, "I would say there is little prospect of that happening."

The measure proposed that the governor set up a commission of "distinguished and learned" West Virginians to choose a new name and map the proper legal course to put it into effect.

Operator of 'Crime School' Begins 2-Year Sentence

BALTIMORE, Jan. 23—Fred Sheppard, 36-year-old father of 25 children, who was described by Judge Charles E. Moylan as the operator of a "school of crime," today began a two-year sentence in the Maryland house of correction.

He was convicted yesterday of contributing to the delinquency of five 11 and 12-year-old boys. Accused of stealing hams, turkeys, chickens, sugar and other foodstuffs from the Lexington market under his tutelage.

Questioned about his past record, Sheppard said he thought he "might have been" convicted of assault about 50 years ago.

Without Painful Backache Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

HOOVER ON FOOD SURVEY IN REICH

Former President To Fly To Germany Next Week For Inspection

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Former President Herbert Hoover today accepted an assignment from President Truman to undertake a survey of food problems in the joint U. S.-British zones of occupied Germany and Austria.

Hoover said he planned to fly to Europe the latter part of next week, if possible, to start his inspection tour.

He announced his acceptance of the task after a conference with Mr. Truman, attended also by Dr. Julius Klein, one-time head of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce.

Hoover told reporters at the White House that his mission would be directed to food and its collateral problems.

It will be directed to relieving some of the burden of the American taxpayer," he said, "and will seek to develop a two or three year prospect since he sees that Germany's productivity will enable it to supply major home needs for two or three years.

He emphasized that "there are no political implications in this mission."

Dies In Farm Blaze

CHARDON, Jan. 23.—Robert St. John, 82-year-old blind mute, burned to death today in the flames of a farm home east of neighboring Hamden.

Beaver Rural To Have School Lunch Program

LISBON, Jan. 23.—Plans for a school lunch program in the Beaver Rural school district were completed at a meeting here in which 25 supervisors, teachers and cooks of the district participated. County Supt. W. E. Roberts announced.

The serving of hot lunches will begin in the schools of the district including Elkton, West Point, Calcutta, Clarkson, Rogers and Oak Grove, on Monday, under the supervision of Mrs. Cieta Sapp, who has just completed special study at the University of West Virginia.

The lunches will be served pupils at a cost of 17-cents, with the state paying six-cents of the cost of each lunch.

Soviet-Hating Russian Given Visa Extension

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 23.—The U. S. Immigration and Naturalization service disclosed today it had granted a 60-day extension of the transit visa under which Kyrill Alekseev, who termed his native Russia a "hell of dictatorship," is in the United States.

The U. S. State department yesterday said it had rejected a Russian demand that the United States arrest Alekseev and turn him over to Soviet authorities.

A spokesman for the immigration service said that the extension was sent to Alekseev at Brownsville, Tex., last Friday and that it was handled by the service "strictly as a routine matter."

AXIS SALLY AGAIN IN U. S. CUSTODY

FRANKFURT, Germany, Jan. 23. Mildred Gillars, better known as "Axis Sally," was re-arrested here today on orders of the Department of Justice in Washington.

The American woman, who originally was arrested for pro-Nazi broadcasts during the war, was released recently, together with two other American propagandists for the Nazis.

Intelligence officers said they did not know why the Department of Justice had ordered her taken into custody again so soon after her release.

Attorney General Tom Clark told news correspondents in Washington a few days ago that Miss Gillars would be tried for treason if she returned to the United States.

He said he could not estimate the number of these Russians.

Wyoming's Teton range is considered one of the most precipitous mountain fronts on the North American continent.

WARNING!

The GAS Supply Is Critical!

Prolonged cold weather has doubled the demand for natural gas.

Gas supply and distribution lines—already taxed to capacity—are now overburdened as a result of the present cold wave, with gas pressures in the lines now running dangerously low in this area.

We have already drastically reduced all industrial consumption.

That will not be enough. It is vitally necessary that domestic users use less gas.

If everyone cooperates and follows the instructions for saving fuel that are outlined in this advertisement . . . it will help to prevent undue hardship.

We thank you for your complete cooperation throughout this emergency and assure you that your gas company is doing everything possible to increase the gas supply available to you and your neighbors.

Everyone must help save this precious fuel! HERE'S HOW

1. Don't use your gas range to heat the kitchen.
2. If you heat with gas set your thermostat at 65°—still lower at night.
3. Shut off rooms not in use, particularly attics and second floor bedrooms. Keep bedroom doors closed at night, place a rug at bottom of door.
4. Don't use gas room heaters to supplement your furnace.
5. Use hot water sparingly. Postpone all laundering and bathing. Don't wash dishes or shave in running hot water. Keep water heater thermostat set at a minimum.

Pennsylvania Railroad To Use Diesels Extensively

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 23 — The Pennsylvania railroad, declaring it is "keeping fully abreast of every modern development in all forms of motive power," announced today a $30,400,000 program to replace its through-service fleet of coal burning steam-powered engines with Diesel electric locomotives.

The railroad said it expects to place Diesels in large-scale operation this year on its main freight and passenger runs from Harrisburg, Pa., to Chicago and St. Louis. East of Harrisburg, PRR trains are powered by electric locomotives.

The road would make no specific statement as to how much it would curtail its purchases of coal but a spokesman pointed out that "when you're burning oil, you can't be burning as much coal."

The spokesman added that with the new engines plus new coaches and sleepers expected to be delivered this summer, operating time between the east and the midwestern cities should be "reduced markedly." PRR said it placed orders today for 25 Diesel electric locomotives at a cost of $15,000,000. Six freight and five passenger locomotives will be built by the Electro-Motive division of General Motors Corp., nine passenger engines by the Baldwin Locomotive works and five passenger locomotives by the American Locomotive Co.

said, pointing out that they are cleaner and will require less maintenance work. He added that Diesels will be able to haul a train comparable to any hauled by the most powerful steam engines.

At the same time, however, he emphasized that the new program does not mean PRR is completely abandoning steam locomotives. He pointed out that 75 modern multi-cylindrical coal burning steam locomotives were completed in recent months for PRR.

Leetonia Group Re-elects Long

LEETONIA, Jan. 23—The 58th annual stockholders meeting of the Leetonia Federal Savings & Loan Association was held in the loan company's offices.

They re-elected W. W. Long, president; Lynn J. Davis, vice president; Ruby V. Anglemeyer, secretary; Thelma Grindle, assistant secretary-treasurer.

Carl F. Wise, Canton real estate agent and Fred G. Spatholt of Leetonia, were re-elected directors for three years.

The secretary reported an increase in assets and an increase of $8,500 in reserves and undivided profits. The cash and reserve position is one of the best in the history of the company.

One of the interesting facts brought out in the reports was that since the company was organized in 1889, it has paid out in interest and dividends on savings accounts in excess of one million dollars.

Recent Births

Relatives have been advised of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dean of Washington, D. C. on Jan. 8. Mr. Dean is a former Leetonia resident.

Friends have been advised of the birth of a son Jan. 15, to be named Walter Steven, to Mr. and Mrs. William E. Hummel of Athens. The Hummels are former residents of Leetonia.

Pit. David Fenstermaker, Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Md., spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Fenstermaker.

Miss Anita Stewart of Youngstown spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Stewart.

Former Lisbon Girl, 12, Grateful Polio Victim

LISBON, Jan. 23—Jill Robinson, 12, daughter of Mrs. Pearl Robinson of Phoenix, Ariz., and the late Dr. W. Robinson of Lisbon, wrote to friend here urging support of the March of Dimes for the treatment of infantile paralysis, of which she was recently a victim, as follows:

"Please tell the people of Lisbon how much the March of Dimes means, and that I, who had one of the worst cases of infantile paralysis six months ago am now at home almost cured and learning to walk again. The March of Dimes pays for everything and the treatment is free to every child stricken."

Which Is Grandma?

PARTY UNITY PLEASES DEMS

Hail Two-Vote Defeat On Senate War Investigating Committee

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23—Senate Democrats who came within two votes of upsetting Republican plans in the 80th congress' first test posted notice today that they will have their big artillery ready for future GOP proposals.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the minority whip, said yesterday's 47 to 45 vote by which the Republicans beat off an attempt to scuttle the Brewster war investigating committee was merely a sample of a new sort of Democratic unity.

"We lost but we showed the Republicans they have to watch their step on what they propose," Lucas told a reporter.
Final Vote 49 To 43
But Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the majority whip, retorted that the Republicans were not particularly worried. He noted the final tally was 49 to 43 to keep the Brewster committee in operation, after the previous closer vote had defeated an attempt to turn over all war fraud inquiries to the expenditures committee.

"I think the Democrats have reached their peak and I doubt that they will ever again be able to line up as many of their own members or get as much Republican support," Wherry said.

The chief job of the two whips—Lucas and Wherry—is to try to keep their party lines intact on major issues.

Wherry forecast a much wider victory margin for a resolution now before the senate to authorize an eight months' investigation of small business by a special committee which the Nebraskan will head.

power to delay a strike 60 days; to outlaw jurisdictional strikes, organization strikes, secondary boycotts, union-controlled welfare funds, and the check-off system of collecting union dues by payroll deductions; and to require unions to register and make annual financial reports.
2. A resolution by Senator Murray and eight other senate Democrats to create a 20-man commission that would investigate the whole labor field and recommend legislation.

3. A bill by Senator Wayne Morse (R-Ore.) to abolish the U. S. Conciliation Service and replace it with a federal mediation board outside the Labor department (not inside the department as provided in the Ball-Taft-Smith bill).

4. Ball anti-closed shop bill which would outlaw the closed shop and its modifications, the union shop, maintenance of membership, and preference to union men in hiring.

U. S. GIVES FINLAND $32,000,000 CREDIT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23—Uncle Sam is putting up another $32,000,000 to help put his best paying foreign borrower, Finland, back on its feet.

Finland, Treasury officials said today, remains the only borrower which has never failed to make the payments on a debt contracted with this country as an aftermath of the first World war.

The little Baltic nation will get the new credits from the Export-Import bank, which let it have $40,000,000 in 1945 and 1946 to buy some urgently needed materials and equipment in this country, mostly to restore its lumber, pulp and paper exports.

The injured, all trainmen, were Clint McCollam, brakeman, Cincinnati, burns and rib fractures; A. L. Clark, engineer, Indianapolis, burns, and F. L. Knight, Indianapolis, burns.

Woman Faces Life For Bank Holdup

DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 23—An attractive 35-year-old mother of two teen-age daughters was seized yesterday less than an hour after she staged a daring daylight holdup of a downtown bank using as a weapon a hypodermic syringe filled with a mouthwash.

Police Chief Jack Brophy said the woman, Mrs. Opal Dixon, a waitress, signed a statement admitting the $2,950 holdup of the Des Moines Bank & Trust Co. in St. Louis last Dec. 26.

Brophy said Mrs. Dixon would be charged with bank robbery under Iowa state law which carries a mandatory life term upon conviction.

Shortly after 1 p. m. a woman, black-haired, hatless and wearing a fur coat entered the bank, went to a teller's cage and started 40 customers and 20 employees by shouting "This is a stickup. This place is covered." Flourishing the syringe, she threatened to "blow this place to pieces."

Within an hour Mrs. Dixon was seized and at first denied the holdup. Brophy said when confronted by her two daughters she admitted the robbery and also the holdup of the St. Louis bank.

VFW'S LOBBYIST, OMAR KETCHUM, IS REAL WORKER

By ROWLAND EVANS, JR.
WASHINGTON—Omar Ketchum, chief legislative representative of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, winked his eye.

"Wine, women and song," he chuckled, "are not the weapons we use to pressure congress to enact veterans' legislation."

In spite of all the glamorized accounts of how a lobbyist works, it really adds up to just one thing—effort.

Ketchum has had plenty of experience in politics. He was mayor of Topeka, Kas., for two terms. He ran for governor and senator after but was defeated both times.

His job is to get congress to make laws out of resolutions passed at VFW conventions.

Almost 90 per cent of the VFW's 2,000,000 members are World War II veterans, and so almost all VFW legislative activity in these opening days of the 80th congress is connected with World War II benefits.

"Veterans' RFC" Is Sought

A "Veterans' RFC" heads the list of VFW's legislative aims. VFW's plan is to set up a new RFC to take the place of the present one, it would advance funds to "expand the national economy, exploit our national resources and create jobs for veterans."

VFW is primarily concerned with creating jobs and says it feels its RFC bill stands a good chance of getting into law for two reasons: (1) It doesn't cost the taxpayer any money, (2) it will help veterans get jobs with a future.

Money loaned under the bill would not go just to veterans but to any one who is a "sound risk with decent credit."

Already six bills have been introduced in the house to accomplish this purpose.

How Lobbyist Works

"Now that you've got these bills introduced, how are you going to go about getting action on them?" I inquired. The question could have been "just how does a veterans' lobbyist work?"

"It's that effort I mentioned," answered Ketchum. "First we talk to committee members. Then we circulate among our members all the eye on the bill in question, and often as not they write their own emendations and ask for action."

"When the bill gets 'hot' and appears to be on the brink of seeing action we get right down to the door-to-door pounding stage. Then we hope for the best."

The present VFW legislative program is ambitious. Other proposals among some 90 legislative aims are:

Held in GI Thefts

AS DEPUTY MARSHAL Michael H. Barry reads an arrest warrant in Federal Court in Boston, Alfred Parkhurst, 27, son of the assistant business manager of Harvard University, listens to charges against him. He was held in $25,000 bail in connection with the theft of nearly $5,000 in veterans' checks from Harvard mail boxes. According to federal police, Parkhurst admitted the thefts were made because he "liked a good time." (International)

You Can Play a Duet With a Recording

TULSA, Okla.—Ever play a duet by yourself?

Well, Joe Linde, Jr., music student at the University of Tulsa, turned the trick on a clarinet and exclaimed it's "not bad at all."

Linde first played a solo number to test a new recording device; and his teacher, Dean Albert Lukken of the College of Fine Arts, asked him to take a duet part with the recording.

"Both of you sound good," the dean complimented.

proposals to make terminal leave bonds into cash; to raise the ceilings on wages plus subsistence, to pay "adjusted compensation" to World War vets, (a bonus to you or me), and to get into law the army's proposal for universal military training.

Ketchum last year made 55 personal trips to congressional committees.

Road Projects Approved

COLUMBUS, Jan. 23.—The Public Roads Administration has approved Ohio's $6,900,000 secondary federal aid roads program for 1947. Highway Director Murray Shaffer said today.

The program includes 118 projects and 225 miles of improvements. The cost of the work will be shared by the federal government.

PRA approved more than half of the state's primary roads program a month ago. Estimated cost of the approved portion was $9,500,000.

Second Guessing

DEPARTMENT OF INFORMATION

William F. (Red) Conkright, end and center coach for the Cleveland Brown football team, will be in Salem Monday, Feb. 10, to show the 45-minute film produced by the Browns on training camp, season's games and the Musical Majorettes for the entertainment of the Salem Boosters club.

Conkright, who has been a pro football attaché since 1937, is well known in this area, both through his association with Paul Brown this past season and for his earlier play with the former championship Cleveland Rams and the Chicago Bears.

The genial redhead will screen the films for Boosters here and probably will offer a short talk and question period.

Joe Kelley, Boosters club president, changed the usual Thursday night date so that the films could be shown. They are booked up into early March, Nate Wallace, Brown publicity man, reports.

SHADES OF THE RECENT PAST

Salem track fans and gridiron followers may well remember Len Corbin of the great 1944-45 Warren Harding High track and football teams. The latest news on Len, who served in the Army for more than a year, is that he will be wearing a Western Reserve football uniform and track outfit next season.

The Negro star, who made All-Ohio end two years at Warren and was an anchorman in the district championship half mile and mile relays teams in the district meets here, has enrolled in W. R. for the fall session.

He at one time was sought by Ohio State.

He was a standout performer in the district track meets here and also participated in two dual meets at Reilly stadium.

POLO DEPARTMENT

Owen M. Lewis, son of the sponsor of the Alliance polo club for many years, has been instrumental in bringing the horse and stick sport back to Cleveland after a lay-off of some six years.

Lewis has organized the Cavalry Raiders team, representing Cleveland in the indoor polo ranks, and the team will play its first game at Culver, Ind., Saturday.

Lewis has recruited Hugh O'Neill, III, and Robert G. Sloan as the beginning of the team and he will participate himself. The only block in progress at the present time, it is reported, is a shortage of ponies for the team.

Lewis at one time played with the Alliance club with his father and a brother.

CONGRATULATION DEPARTMENT

Salem can well be proud of the records of its Junior Saxon club basketball teams over the past decade or more.

The local club, which already has assured itself a place in the Saxon league playoff this year, probably has the finest basketball record among the Saxon clubs in the two-state loop.

Back in the late 30s the local outfit ruled supreme annually in the league and the current Saxon edition is faring just as well as the former teams, coached by Pete Sanders, did with amazing consistency.

Local fans would do well to go out and take a gander at the 1947 Saxon club in its next try at the Memorial building one of these Saturday nights.

ODDS AND ENDS

There are no undefeated college basketball teams left in Ohio. There are only about five Class A perfect records left in the High school ranks. Salem, of course, is one. The East Liverpool-Salem game at East Liverpool next Friday has been sold out completely for more than a week. Coach Bob Miller, incidentally, has been receiving anonymous "fan letters" from Potterstown. All predict a Liverpool victory over Salem. The Quakers are determined to hold the Leontia Boosters club has already arranged a showing of the Brown football films for sometime in February and is hoping to get the Army-Navy game film the same night.

Harrison Dillard, Negro Baldwin-Wallace track star, will make his 1947 debut at the Philadelphia indoor meet Friday. Coach Eddie Finnigan's broad smile this year is traceable to Dillard's presence on the squad. Of some 16,000 communities in the United States, only 3,000 to 4,000 have organized programs for youth recreation (boys and girls). A current campaign is under way to better that mark. Bill Veeck and Salem's Joe Kelley are both Kenyon college graduates. Veeck played football and baseball at Kenyon and so did Kelley, but years apart.

Pager May Not Play With Quakers Friday

TOP SCORER ILL: COACH MAKES SHIFT

Will Start Tommy Miner If Six-Six Star Is Unavailable

Salem fans trekking to the Youngstown South field house Friday night may see a revamped, faster and much shorter Salem High school varsity take the board against Youngstown Rayen, for big Bob Payer, high-scoring and top defensive ace, is reportedly suffering with the flu.

The report, brought to Coach Bob Miller yesterday when Payer was absent from school, may or may not materialize but the coach says Payer was ill in practice Tuesday and didn't seem up to par.

Should Payer remain ill Friday, Coach Miller will start Tommy Miner with Virgil Kelly at center, Francis Lanney and Miner at forwards, and Jim Laughlin and Tony Martelli at guards.

The switch in starting lineup will give Salem a much shorter outfit and will allow Youngstown Rayen a definite height advantage on the roomy South High court.

Miller expects to emphasize speed and tight defensive play Friday to overcome the height advantage. Lanney and Kelly both measure six feet or better, but Rayen has a trio of men six two and over. None, however, would come up to Payer's six feet six.

Coach Ralph Robinson's crew generally includes George Stevenson and Charlie Frost at forwards, both six two. On the center spot is Howie Geigge, a six foot three inch lad who is a highly touted pivot man.

Big gun on the Raven outfit is Clarence Danielson, who leads the team in scoring and is averaging about 12 points a game.

Danielson is a guard, playing opposite Carmen Arzavino, a speedy sharp-shooter who is the shortest man on the squad.

Rayen has hit high gear several times this season and is reputedly among the top teams when hot. Only Canton McKinley, Canton Lehman and Austintown Fitch, all among the district's best, have triumphed over the Tigers.

The Salem game will get started at about 8:30 p. m. Friday. In the first game at 7:30 fans will see a highly regarded Lovellville Class B club meet a fair Class A outfit in Youngstown Ursuline.

Coach Cy James' outfit has already played twice this week, will meet Lovellville Friday and is scheduled again on Saturday.

Hank Greenberg Father Now: Will Talk Contract

NEW YORK, Jan. 23. — Hank Greenberg, the 1946 home run king, can now make plans for a conference with his new employers, the Pittsburgh Pirates. His wife, the former Carol Gimbel, presented him with an eight and one-quarter pound boy last night at Harkness Pavilion.

Greenberg, sold last Saturday to the Pirates by the Detroit Tigers, had deferred a talk with the Pirates management until after the baby was born.

Strikes to Spare

The Salem Woman's Bowling association held a meeting Tuesday night to make preparations for their city tournament starting March 3 at the Masonic temple alleys.

Averages will be taken as of Feb. 1 for figuring handicap and any bowler will receive 60 per cent of the difference of her average and 200 for a handicap providing she had bowled six league games. Highest league average to be used for a handicap.

The entry fee is $1 per event and must be sent with the entry blank to the city secretary, Carrie Slagle, not later than Feb. 15.

The largest tournament in the Association's history is expected due to the fact that bowler may bowl as many teams as she so desires. She may only bowl once in doubles event and once in doubles event and once in single event. Her first team score will be used as her all events score.

Medals are given to first place winners.

METZ SUSPENDED BY PGA OFFICIALS

Golfer Barred From Two PGA Sponsored Meets In Next Two Weeks

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 23. — Officials of the Professional Golfers Association announced early today that Dick Metz of Arkansas City, Kas., had been suspended from competing in the next two PGA-sponsored golf tournaments.

The disciplinary action came as the aftermath of an incident at Carmel, Calif., two weeks ago in which it was charged, Metz struck Fred J. Corcoran, PCA tournament bureau manager.

The suspension was voted by a newly-formed PGA tournament players' committee headed by George Schneider of Ogden, Utah. The committee found Metz guilty of violating PGA's code of ethics for "conduct likely to injure the reputation and standing of the association or any of its members."

Other members of the committee include U. S. Open Champion Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, PGA champion Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., Jimmy Demaret of Houston, Tex., Jimmy Thompson of Chico, Calif., and Ellsworth Vines, Los Angeles.

Sam Snead of Hot Springs, Va., British Open champion, the seventh member, is in the east.

The two tournaments which Metz may not enter are the $10,000 Phoenix open which starts Friday and the $10,000 Tucson, Ariz., open the following week.

Old Act of Tossing Bowling Ball Into River History, But Try This One For Size

The act of tossing a bowling ball into a river has long been indulged in by bowlers. The story of these incidents always brings a laugh, try this one for size.

In the spring of 1933 three keg-ers from Milo Wiesner's alleys, Chicago, did a bit of unsatisfactory bowling in the Inter-State tournament at Aurora, Ill. Walking across the Fox river bridge Wiesner suggested that they toss their equipment over the railing.

Tossed Away
So they soberly counted off: "One, two, three." They swung their bags in unison to the cadence and at the count of "three" Johnny Wallen let go while the other two held back.

Then Johnny realized that he had been framed and he laughed loudest over the trick.

Each league night for the next few weeks Johnny borrowed a ball from Milo. One night Milo "loaned" him a different one and Wallen rolled 635 with it. He attempted to buy the ball but Milo floored him with this answer:

"The owner of that ball wouldn't sell it to you, Johnny."

"Tell me who owns it, Milo, and I'll make him a proposition."
